WILL USE TWO EIGHT INCH PIPES.

Necessary For Crossing The Track of The Central Vermont Railway, With Pipeline.

Rain has held up the laying of pipe in West Main street the pipe having been put in to a point halfway down the hill above Thames square. Many pipes are encountered in the street.

In laying the pipeline over the track of the Central Vermont road it has been decided to use two eight inch pipes. These will branch out from the 16 inch pipe line and cross the track and then for the remainder of the distance under the bridge the 16 inch pipe will be put in. There is not room enough under the bridge to put in the 16 inch pipe and allow clearance for the freight trains on the Central Vermont road.

FAIRVIEW SHOWS BIG GAIN.

This Will Continue For Some Time As Result of the Rainstorm.

Fairview reservoir responded quickly to the rain and on Thursday showed a gain of five inches. It had dropped to 206 inches below high water mark on Wednesday but yesterday it was at 201 inches down with a large stream coming in from Meadow brook. The rainfall from Wednesday afternoon was .74 of an inch making 2.64 of an inch for the month. The water will continue for several days it is expected.

At Stony brook the rainfall is felt and there is more water in the basin than the 24 inch waste pipe will carry away. It will be a day or two before the basin is drained.

SANATORIUM SITE NOT SELECTED

Local Committee on Tuberculosis Work Making Good Progress—Commissioner Gunshanan to Speak Before Board of Trade, October 30.

Cordial responses in practically all instances are being received by the local committee on tuberculosis work and further reports are expected at the meeting of the committee to be held today. Nothing has been done by them except preliminary work towards the raising of funds, which means the placing of the matter before the factory heads and organizations for the purpose of getting the plan organized and allow everyone to become interested in the great fight against the white plague.

Nothing has been decided about the site for the New London county sanatorium, though the plans for the building, which will be the same as the one in Middlesex county, were decided this week, as previously noted, by the state tuberculosis commission, a front view of the administration building and infirmary being given herewith. On his last visit here Commissioner Gunshanan stated that he believed that the county could provide from 40 to 50 patients for such a sanatorium, there being in his opinion that number who would desire to go to such an institute, as the prejudice against entering an hospital of that kind is disappearing.

Commissioner Gunshanan is to be the chief speaker at the board of trade meeting which will be held on October 30. He is thoroughly conversant with the work in this and neighboring states and is busy all the time, night as well as day, in stirring up additional interest in the cause. It was at his suggestion that the local committee was named, and as the result of their efforts it is believed a good sized fund can be raised for the partial support of the sanatorium in this county, which there is reason to believe will be located in this vicinity, if the proper interest is shown. The selection of the site rests with the state commission.

ECHOES FROM THE STATE BAPTIST CONVENTION

Given at Midweek Meeting by Delegates Who Have Returned.

Thursday evening at the Central Baptist church prayer meeting, three of the church members who had attended the annual meeting of the Connecticut Baptist convention this week in Waterbury, made informal reports from the convention. Mrs. Frank A. Roath was the first to speak, when called upon by the pastor, Rev. P. F. Wright, touching briefly upon a number of the meetings. She spoke especially of missionary work reported in Cuba, and of the presence at the convention of five delegates from the First Hungarian church in Bridgeport, which has doubled its membership in 18 months and now has from 30 to 35 members. She also spoke of missionary work being done in this state among Swedish and among Italian people. It is reported that there are 100,000 Italians in the state, having increased to that number from 19,000 in 1904. Mr. Roath also spoke of encouraging reports made of the Telegu and South African mission fields.

James L. Case, who spent a day at the convention, also responded to a call for a report, mentioning the success which it was shown had attended the efforts to restore the funds of the after trial depletion fund. Four and a half years ago by the Walker defalcations. The Baptist convention now is in control of funds to the amount of $195,000, but even this amount is not enough to meet the needs of the work to be done, and there is still need of contributions from the churches. As illustrative of the gain made by the churches in the last 100 years, Mr. Case mentioned that it was told at the meetings that 100 years ago one person in 14 in America was a church member. The proportion now is one in four.

Rev. Mr. Wright summed up on various points that had been touched upon by the two speakers who preceded him, and gave it as his opinion that the outlook for the coming year is good as far as mission work in the state is concerned, but the work in the country districts is not good, and the churches are not prospering there.

CLUB NIGHT AT THE ARCANUM CLUB

Whist the Medium of Entertainment, Followed by a Chowder.

As the opening event of the entertainment season at the Arcanum club there was whist at the club Thursday evening, and despite the bad weather there were nine tables of players. The result was that Nelson Porter on the white scorers secured 75 points, and Edwin Williams on the black 43. The former received an umbrella and the latter a hobbie tie. There were about 80 in attendance, and following the whist one of McDougall's oyster chowders was greatly enjoyed in the banquet hall.

In charge of the successful evening was the entertainment committee, Louis R. Parsons, chairman, Will L. Stearns and George A. Keppler.

OBITUARY.

William S. Slocum.

The death of William Stanton Slocum occurred at his home in Brooklyn, Mass., on Thursday morning at the age of 50 years. He was a native of Chelsea, Mass., and in this city, June 19, 1889, he married Caroline S. Kenyon, daughter of the late Mrs. Charles H. Kenyon of Laurel Hill avenue. He was engaged in the manufacture of stained glass in Boston. Mr. Slocum is survived by his wife and two sons, Rodney and Stanton Slocum.

Mrs. Prentice A. Perkins. About 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the death of Mrs. Prentice A. Perkins occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Pastore, in Garfield avenue, she had been in poor health for some time.

Mrs. Perkins was born in Ledyard, December 3, 1835, the daughter of John A. and Lucinda Sholes Perkins, her maiden name being Mary E. Perkins. She married Prentice A. Perkins, and he died about 25 years ago. She was a resident for a long term of years at Brewster Neck and was well known and highly respected in that vicinity. For several years she has lived with her daughter. She was a devoted mother and a woman of excellent traits of character. The family has the sympathy of the community in their loss.

She is survived by one son, Charles A. Perkins of this city, and three daughters, Mrs. James Pastore of this city, Mrs. Roy Meyers and Elizabeth R. Perkins of Boston. There are several grandchildren.

SUDDEN DEATH OF FRANK H. LOVELL.

Was About City as Usual on Thursday—End Came from a Shock.

Friends of Frank H. Lovell, the well known newsdealer of the West Side, will be painfully surprised to learn of his death, which occurred this morning about 2.30 o'clock, very suddenly, at his home, No. 51 Fairmount street. He had been in ordinarily good health and had been attending as usual to business during the day, but was stricken by the shock early this morning, and died within a short time.

He was rearser of the West Chelsea school district, which he held for a number of years. He conducted a newsstand and stationery store on Thames square for many years, and was one of the prominent residents of the West Side.

He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Louis DeMonte, and a son, Frank.

J. RAYMOND PALMER REFUSED PAYMENT FOR HIS FARM.

Offered By City Treasurer Avery In Accordance With Judgment But Declined Because of Appeal.

In accordance with the judgment in the condemnation case of the board of water commissioners of the city of Norwich vs. J. Raymond Palmer, City Treasurer Charles S. Avery on Thursday tendered Mr. Palmer $4,500 for his farm where the Stony brook reservoir is being constructed, that being the award determined by the court to be paid before November first. Judge Shumway decided that if he refused the money it should be deposited with the clerk of the court so that course will be pursued today.

With the city treasurer on his visit was Corporation Counsel J. T. Fanning and Supt. J. J. Corkery of the water department. Mr. Palmer is refusing the money said that the case had been appealed and therefore he would not accept it.

Judge Shumway fixed the amount as $4,500 which the city should pay for the farm the defendant took an appeal to the supreme court of errors and it will be heard at the April term of that court. It has been reported that should the supreme court be unfavorable to the defendant it will be carried to the United States Supreme court. The appeal is taken on the denial of the motion to quash, which was made on the grounds that the city had no right to bring condemnation proceedings outside the town limits, and the farm is in Montville.
